SENIOR CLASS

George Anderson

"Andy"

"Andy" although quiet has made his place in the school. He has been basketball manager during his Senior Year and a member of the Glee Club for two years. We wish him success in whatever he does.

Irene Emilena Arsenault

"Rene"

Irene is one of our quietest members. Her efficiency as a commercial student is of great benefit to the paper staff when it is time to make stencils. The Good Writers Club has shared her abilities for the past three years. We wish Irene a very successful business career.

Pauline Irene Bedard

"Polly"

Polly is a commercial student with the ability to made good stencils. She is a very popular member of the class and was voted the prettiest and best dressed. Her school activities were divided among the Home Makers Club, Good Writers Club, and Glee Club.

Gardner Murray Bishop

"Bish"

"Bish" certainly deserves to be called the boy most representative of the blue and white. His numerous activities include being graduation speaker, debating for three years, being a member of the track team, basketball, and baseball teams, and Glee Club. He had a prominent part in both the Senior and Dramatic Club plays. He ought to be a success in his chosen profession as a civil engineer.

Rolande Simone Buteau

"Beetle"

Rolande, another one of our quiet members, has done her unobtrusive bit to add to the well being of our school. Voice Class and Glee Club for three years, Homemakers Club for two years, and Good Writers Club for one year have constituted her outside activities.

Mary Elizabeth Butler

Mary has been a very active member of the class as she has taken part in debating, dramatics, track manager, exchange editor of the Highlights, and graduation speaker. She took prominent parts in both the Senior Play and former dramatic club plays. Her ready wit and sense of humor makes her a welcome addition to any gathering.

Beverly Florence Davis

"Bev"

Beverly has been president of the class for the past year. Dramatics have claimed most of her extra-curricular attention, as she has taken part in the Senior Play, and the majority of dramatic club plays. She has also been a member of Glee Club and Voice Class for four years.

Russell Henry Ferguson

"Jevee"

We seemed to have underestimated "Jevee's" acting ability until the Senior Play was presented. Russell was a big success as the "Youngest." He has been a member of the cast of several of our play contest presentations. His other activities include Athletic Club and Glee Club.

Evelyn Ann Greenhalge

"Evy"

Although Evelyn has only been with us this last year, she has become quite popular in our school. She is of a witty nature and any gathering that includes her is never dry. Her extra-curricular activities include Glee Club, Debating Club, and Senior Play Cast.

Dwight Edgar Harris

"Professor"

Dwight is to be one of our graduation speakers. His other activities include playing the slide trombone in the high school orchestra, being a member of the Glee Club for three years, a member of the Debating Club, and his doing excellent work as the professor for our play contest play.

Antranig Kestigian

"Pop"

Antranig is the most bashful boy you have probably ever seen. Nevertheless, he is a good student and does his work faithfully. He is a great sportsman and has taken part in basketball and track, in addition to being a member of the Athletic Club for four years and the Glee Club for one year.

William Joseph Meservey

"Bill"

"Bill" is one of our stars on the basketball and baseball teams. He has been a sports fan ever since he entered high school. In addition to playing on teams he has been a member of the Athletic Club for four years. His other activities include Senior Play Cast and Glee Club.

Pauline Emily Piehl

"Pep"

The initials PEP just about describe Pauline. She has taken part in track, basketball, and softball, and was voted the most athletic girl in the class. She has done letter guiding for the school, and she took an active part in Home Makers Club, Good Writers Club, and Camera Club.

Eva Agnes Prunier

"Pee wee"

Although Eva is small, her importance in the class is great. She was an excellent character actress, Vice-president of the class, and member of both Good Writers Club and Glee Club for four years. Her other interests are commercial.

Gertrude Reynolds

"Gert"

"Gert" has a charm that is all her own. As manager of the Lunch Counter, she has served the school efficiently and well. Her other interests are of an athletic and commercial nature. She has been a member of the Athletic Club for two years and on the basketball squad for three.

Arthur Joseph Robidoux

"Dede"

"Dede's" interests are entirely athletic in nature. He has served on track, baseball, and basketball teams. He has been pitcher for the baseball team four years. The casts of the play contest plays have often included him. For the past two years he has been a member of the Glee Club.

Clara Mabelle Saunders--"Sandy"

Clara is best known as a debater and extemporaneous speaker, as she placed second in the State N.F.L. Meet this year. Her other activities have included being a speaker at graduation, a member of the Senior Play Cast, editor-in-chief of the Highlights, president of Sophomore Class, member of Glee Club, and member of the Orchestra and Voice Class for four years. She was awarded the History Medal and National Honor Society Key her Junior Year, and was chosen to represent Charlton in the D.A.R. Good Citizenship pilgrimage.

John Edward Terrill

"Johnny"

Johnny has always been an ardent sports fan, as is evidenced by his position as assistant manager of the basketball and baseball teams. His liking for reading has not prevented his participation in Camera Club, Glee Club, and Athletic Club.

Melvina Mabel Wilcox

"Vina"

"Vina" was voted the most studious member of the class, and she lives up to it. She was a member of the Senior play contest play cast, a member of Camera Club, and president of her class during her Junior year.

CLASS HISTORY

THE ROLE THAT CLASS OF 1940 PLAYED IN C. H. S.

"The world is but a stage, and each must play his part," and I shall endeavor to relate to you the part that the Class of 1940 played in C. H. S.

There are four great acts, and many scenes. Some serious, some humorous.

ACT I
Scene 1--September

The play began, and we soon found out that there was some good hard work to be done by us, so that our show could go on.

There were 27 members in our cast. The leading characters were: Gertrude Reynolds, Dwight Harris, Gurli Anderson, and Pauline Bedard.
Mrs. Fiske was our ever faithful director.

Scene 2--October

We presented the play "White Phantom" at the annual play contest.

Scene 3--November

Some of our cast engaged in sports, dramatics and music.

Scene 4--February

Two of our members, Mary Butler and Beverly Davis took part in the Dramatic Club Play, "David Copperfield."

Scene 5--March

A number of our members participated in the speaking contest.

Scene 6--April

Many of our boys participated in baseball and made the first team.

Scene 7--June

This act came to a happy close followed by a two-month intermission in which we prepared for hard work in the next acts.

ACT II
Scene 1--September

This scene was again directed by Mrs. Fiske. We were sorry to find that six of our cast had given up their parts, but a new character, Gardner Bishop, appeared at this time, so our total cast was now twenty-three.

The leading characters were: Clara Saunders, Gertrude Reynolds, Beverly Davis, and Eva Prunier.

Scene 2--October

This year we presented "Those In Glass Houses" at the annual play contest.

Scene 3--December

More members participated in sports this year than last. Two members started debating this year.

We are very proud to say that several of our members were chosen for the orchestra this year.

Scene 4--February

Beverly Davis took part in the Dramatic Club Play, "Seventeen."

Scene 5--March

Again we were represented in the speaking contest.

Scene 6--May

Our biology class presented an Arbor and Bird Day Assembly.

Scene 7--June

Act II concluded joyously and all had a wonderful time while getting used to the idea that when the play began again in the fall we would then be working on Act III.

ACT III

This year Mrs. Hammond took over the management as the steadfast director. Now two more of our members had given up their parts. The leading characters were: Melvina Wilcox, Gertrude Reynolds, Beverly Davis, and Pauline Bedard.

Scene 1--October

This year, "Junior Answers an Ad" was given for the play contest.

Scene 2--November

Again we were well represented in sports, and two more of our members were debaters.

Scene 3--December

We very proudly announce that we won the magazine contest, for we sold $57 worth of subscriptions which was 300% of our quota.

Scene 4--March

This year we can proudly announce the returns of the National Forensic Activities. At the district meet Clara Saunders won first place in the Extemporaneous division and Gardner Bishop won first place in Oratory.

Scene 5--April

This scene was very successful. Gardner Bishop placed second at the Mass. State National Forensic Tournament.

Scene 6--May

This scene can be classed among the happiest and most enjoyable parts of our entire play, as we then sponsored our Junior Prom, an event to which all members had been looking forward for quite some time, and regardless of the fact that each had to do his share of the work, all enjoyed it immensely. Music was furnished by Bob Pooley and his Orchestra from Worcester.

Scene 7--June

At the close of this act every Junior had become a senior. This intermission was tinted by the fact that our play would be ended in another ten months.

ACT 1V

This year we returned to find that our former director had taken up another cast, and Mr. Bruce was now our coach. Although we lost one member, we gained another, Evelyn Greenhalge.

The leading characters were: Beverly Davis, Eva Prunier, Melvina Wilcox, and Pauline Bedard.

Scene 1--October

We entered the play contest with "The Professor Roars."

Scene 2--November

Again we answered the cry of "Sports! Dramatics! Debating! and Music!"

We sold Christmas cards and made a profit of about $20.

Scene 3--December

For the second consecutive year we won the magazine contest by selling about $40 worth of magazine subscriptions.

Scene 4--February

Gardner Bishop and Beverly Davis took important parts in the Dramatic Club Play, "Young Lincoln."

Scene 5--March

This year Clara Saunders placed first in extemporaneous speaking at the district meet, and later second at the state meet.

Through the support of three members of our class the debating team placed first at the district meet and third at the state.

Scene 6--April

During this act we presented "The Youngest" starring Russell Ferguson. This play was a great success and we received a large profit.

Scene 8--June

This was the climax of the play. Much work had to be done in preparing for the closing scene. This is the last scene in which all the members of the cast are on the stage together.

The Reception was a great social achievement. The hall was decorated with our class colors blue and gold.

As the curtains are drawn, we are no longer members of C. H. S.

This was our happiest, yet saddest scene as we were happy to find that we had reached the last scenes successfully, but sad to find our play was ending, and soon C. H. S. would be to us a closed play book with many fond memories. Many of the scenes and speeches will be remembered, and some may be forgotten; nevertheless, we shall never forget our many excellent coaches, whose untiring patience and guidance helped to make our play a success. We deeply appreciate the hard untiring work that our directors have expended for us.

So, Freshmen, start now to do your part for C. H. S. so that your name may go down in the history of the school as a success and a benefit to the school.

Sophomores keep going, your role will be taken from you sooner than you think and given to your successors. Therefore, make your place a worthy one to be filled.

Juniors, you will soon be Seniors so try to uphold the dignity of the class. Remember that the underclassmen admire you as you used to admire the Seniors before you. Be superior at all times, but only in actions and work, never in attitude. Your underclassmen will appreciate a warm smile and a kind "Hello" once in a while.

Good luck to all underclassmen!

Melvina Wilcox

CLASS PROPHECY

As I was sitting listening to my radio last night, the music ended and the program changed. The announcer said, "This is station XYZ signing off, you are about to hear the man on the street. We are celebrating our 20th anniversary of broadcasting, as this program began in 1932. You are about to hear none other than Russell Ferguson. Take over the mike, Russell."

Russell is speaking now. "Step right up here, step right up. Oh, here comes a young lady in a blue coat and white hat, (same old Russell, he always did take a fancy to pretty young girls.) Wouldn't you like to take part in our program today, please? Oh, of course you would. Well, say you remind me of Pauline Bedard. What, you are! Well, that is a coincidence! What are you doing now?"

"I am secretary of the United States Treasury." said Pauline.

"Well, well, that makes you the first lady treasurer, and to think the position is held by a member of my own class. What have you heard from the rest of them?"

"Well, almost everyone knows the Class of Forty. See that sign over the Paramount Theatre? Well, that is Beverly Davis' screen name, she has reached the heights of success you know. She is now playing in Clara Saunders' recent Pulitzer Prize winner, "Man and Morals."

"Dwight Harris has just completed the first railroad from Cape Horn to Port Juneau.

"George Anderson, as I hear, is now manager of the New York Yankees and is doing very well, with Willie Meservey as his star pitcher and Arthur Robidoux, as captain and short stop.

"Gertrude Reynolds is now conducting the Hotel Statler in New York and is giving a big dinner some time this week to the leading democratic presidential nominee, Gardner Bishop.

"John Terrill is doing so well with his chemistry, that he is now Professor at Harvard University."

"Well, look who is coming this way, if it isn't Evelyn Greenhalge. Evelyn, as you know, is the first Aviatrix of the American air lines. "Well, Evelyn we were just reminiscing, and your question for today is: What do you know about the Class of 1940?"

"The last that I heard is that Melvina Wilcox is President of the Beauty Culture Society of the United States.

"Antranig Kestigian is now quite the ladies' man. He has a large dairy farm in the Old Home Town, and he is doing quite well with it.

"Eva Prunier and Irene Arsenault are in partnership in the largest beauty salon in the United States, and Mary Butler is now living in Ireland.

"Rolande Buteau is in France where she has a wonderful business. She is a designer of ladies styles and---------"

May we interrupt this program to announce that Gardner Bishop has been elected President of the United States. He is the youngest man ever to hold this honored position. He is reputed to be another Lincoln.

All this brings back to me the memories of C. H. S. and gives me a chilly feeling, for I awake to find a cool breeze blowing through the open window, as Kay Kayser swings our "Playmates."

Pauline Piehl

CHARGE TO THE JUNIORS

As we of the Class of 1940 leave our place in Charlton High School, we give to you, who are about to fill our places next year, a bit of advice. We hope that you may avoid all pitfalls along the way.

Always remember that your teachers are your best friends in time of trouble. Remember that the other classes look up to you. Make your last year the most outstanding and always strive to do your best for your school and your class. Don't do work for the praise but for your own good and always hold high ideals so that your school may benefit by your being there.

As a member of the senior class, I now present the key of responsibility to the Juniors hoping that they may all become successful and keep Charlton High School as great as it is.

Rolande Buteau

CLASS SONG

"FAREWELL"

Tune: "When You Wish Upon a Star"

1st Verse

Dear Old Charlton High,
You have been our guiding star,
Shining through the years,
Spurring us onward to a new life afar.

2nd Verse

Onward through the years,
Reaching to ambition's heights,
Struggling for the rights.
That we hold near and dear to our hearts.

Chorus

When we leave your sheltered walls,
When another duty calls,
We will have a courage true,
To face the world.

We will catch the torch of life,
Cherish it through storm and strife,
All success in future years,
We'll owe to you.

Teachers, kind,
And helpful classmates, too
We now must bid adieu
With inward sadness.

Point the way, oh, guide our feet
Up the straight though narrow street
Lighted by ambition's fire
To gain our heart's desire.

Beverly Davis

"AMERICA AT THE CROSSROADS"

In the fall of 1938 an American business man fell into conversation with a cultured British gentleman at a London Art Exhibit. During the course of the conversation the American inquired--"How soon will the next European War be?"

"What, Sir!" cried the Englishman, "only Americans believe there will be another war in Europe--" and in the hushed silence that followed--"fools." Thus,did the British people rush blindly into war. The peace loving prime minister who was brow beaten at Munich returned to the cheers of London. The British people were awakened only by the flash of artillery fire on the Western front.

Today America stands at the Crossroads. Shall we, as the British people, plunge blindly into the unchartered ways, trusting to we know not what to pull us safely through the mire of war and chaos? We cannot assume indifference to the present problem. For all of the current talk of three thousand miles of wide ocean that separates us, the fact that we are intimately involved is inescapable. Shall we go forward then, with no compass to guide us across devious ways?

The present time is replete with opinions pro and con upon the subject, and yet,how many of these conclusions are the result of clear, deep, and sincere thought? The fate of a nation cannot be allowed to rest upon so insecure a premise as emotionalism; however, that is the only thing upon which many present war attitudes are founded. We forget that complete knowledge is an essential to sound judgment. We are ruled too much by our hates, and fears, and prejudices. We must not forget that the enemy is also human, with emotions similar to ours.

America stands at the crossroads. The way that lies before her is dark and twisted, filled with false turns, the pursuance of which means certain death. Are we to enter this maze with our eyes shut? Is there a way out?

Yes, there is a way, but it can be reached only by the sincere earnest prayers and the thoughts of each individual citizen. Only then can we reach the hill where shines the light of peace. It will not be easy; the path will not be straight or clear, but we must try our best to save not only our own nation from others, but the world from itself. We can't do this by mingling our hate and our blood with theirs, as the last time, but by binding up their wounds and teaching them the true essentials of brotherhood.

Too idealistic I may hear you say! Perhaps, but it can be done in no other way. We have tried being practical but that failed. We have fought for our ideals. Now, why not live for them?

America stands today at the crossroads. One way leads to destruction; the other to salvation for America and the world, and there are many paths in between. Will you do your best to think earnestly and prayerfully, that she may reach her ideal of peace? The way is long and hard, the choosing at the crossroads difficult. Which way shall we go? The future alone can tell.

"SO THIS IS CHARLTON HIGH"

A school composed almost entirely of happy, healthy, ambitious persons was something way beyond my powers of conception. When I came from Worcester to enter the doors of Charlton High, I didn't feel as much like an alien as I thought I would. A school where you not only obtain learning but friendships and good fun as well was new to me.

Large rooms did not greet me in a cold, aloof manner, but seemed to take me in and greet me with genuine feeling; a warmth to be had only by the friendships made and ties kept in bondage by it.

The teachers are unusual, not like any I have ever known. They are more like counselors than anything else, giving whole hearted attention and understanding to the problems of the students, lighting the way to higher knowledge, understanding, and capability.

I thought it would be slow but a person has a right to change his mind, a thing which I did, for there is never a dull moment. If anyone has his senses alert, Charlton High is the place to get a keen education and like it.

PACIFISM

We have all heard pacifists called names, insulted, and told they were something worse than feeble-minded. The saddest part of the story is the fact that people unthinkingly accept the judgment and criticisms of other people, never stopping to give the situation some thought themselves. Some say pacifism is absurd; it just simply cannot be. The whole world is at arms; more than half the people of the world are at war. How can one stand idly by to wait for some belligerent to take over America? We must prepare!--That's the practical point of view. Today everyone is being practical; this is the age of practicality. Our need is for more idealists, more people who will recognize a standard higher than partiotism, higher than that nationalistic spirit which undermines the very basis of our dream of world brotherhood. We must exchange that spirit of nationalism for one of internationalism. This is the ideal of the pacifist, the brotherhood of all men, amicable relations among nations, that unfailing trust of one's neighbors which is so essential to peace and understanding.

"O help us stand unswaying against war's bloody way,
Where hate and lust and falsehood hold back Christ's holy sway,
Forbid false love of country,
that blinds us to his call
Who lifts above the nation
the brotherhood of all."

This bit of verse by the contemporary poet S. Ralph Harlow seems to express the true concept of those ideals which should be foremost in our hearts and lives. Would that our dream could come true through the, as yet, untried doctrine of the pacifist.

"ODE TO CHARLTON HIGH SCHOOL"

Set on a hill in the center of town
Is the red brick school of my dreams;
It has seen me up, and seen me down
And all the inbetweens.

It is there the foundations of life
were laid,
As the school its duty pursued
For it gave me the longing for learning, that made
Me a student with knowledge imbued.

Unheeded it has made a place
Of honor in my heart
A mark that time cannot erase,
That makes for pain as we must part.

Oh! Charlton High School ever be
A guiding light to those who come
In later years, to learn of thee
May thy great work be never done!

May others find, as I have found
An inspiration in thy halls
There may all those hear the sound
Of knowledge as it calls.

For knowledge and pleasure go hand in hand,
Till the two become almost as one;
And as we grow older we understand
That learning is truly fun.

Now as I leave you, Charlton High,
But scarce beginning now to see
How much you've done, so now that I
Must needs fulfill my debt to thee.

I promise through all later life
To live up to the vision seen,
When with youth's idealism rife
I left your sheltering wing.

But the years may come and the years may go,
And still secure you'll stand
Among the choicest memories I know,
In all of youth's fair land.

Clara M. Saunders

"A TRIBUTE TO OUR TEACHERS"

As we, the seniors of Charlton High School sail out on the ship of life toward the land of Success, we wish to leave behind us a word of thanks and appreciation for our teachers.

We, as seniors, can well realize their untiring efforts and patience in helping us to prepare for the type of life we must live when we have put our high school days behind us.

It is with a feeling of pride that we point to our teachers of Charlton High School. They have not only spent their efforts in teaching the subjects required, but they have also shown great interest in being a friend to each and every student.

We must not forget that our teachers have given many hours outside of the class room in aiding students to utilize their leisure time. Without the kindness and willingness of these teachers to give up their free time to prepare extra-curricular activities for the students, the high school might conceivably be without these added pleasures.

Although sometimes we students may have neglected to show our appreciation, we wish to take this opportunity to tell our teachers how very grateful we are, and we wish to thank them for every minute they have spent for us.

It is with great sadness in our hearts that we leave Charlton High School and our teachers whom we shall always remember as playing not only a vital part in our education but also as our greatest friends and guardians throughout our high school days.

Mary E. Butler

"TO THE GRADUATE"

(My apologies to Kipling)

If you can study, yet not be a bookworm;
If you can work, and still have time for fun;
If you can play, and yet not be a playboy;
The best of life for you has just begun.

If you can learn in schools of real experience,
And look all life's professors in the eye,
And keep on going on the way you started,
Well, you won't need to worry--you'll get by.

"MOMENT IN PEKING"

Book Review

"Moment In Peking" by Lin Yuntang, is a novel of comtemporary Chinese life, written by a man who knows the subject about which he is writing. With vivid realism, Lin Yuntang has written out of his own experience, weaving into the fibers of the story the philosopy of the life for which he is so noted. To the average western reader an entirely new vista of thought is opened. A type of thought that is typically oriental. The oriental mind is so seemingly opposed to that of his western neighbor that such a revelation of thought and culture is very beneficial in aiding us to better understand the whys and wherefores of the jumbled situation that is prevalent in the Far East today.

This book by Lin Yuntang gives the reader the added benefit of retrospect in his judgment of present political problems in the Far East. In Lin Yuntang's own words, "You can view the mountain better from the plain," and this is descriptive of the value of this book. An impersonal reading of it can produce a comprehensive picture of the complex situation.

Added to this are the early chapters of the book that give a solid background upon which to paint the vivid colors of the present picture. The author has his reader well grounded in the oriental culture before he attempts to reveal his most striking pictures of his culture. So fine is the descriptive power of "Moment In Peking" that while reading a person will find his mind almost in sympathetic understanding of customs so strange and opposed to our own.

Although this is a novel, it should not be read for pleasure alone. Its greatest value lies not in the story, but in the lessons it teaches in oriental terms of thought. In a world so closely knit as ours, it is very dangerous to ignore the other cultures of the world. In a country such as America every citizen must have a diplomat's understanding of the countries with which his nation has to deal. "Moment In Peking" gives this knowledge painlessly.

A great lesson taught by this book is that humans are fundamentally the same the world over. They all love and hate; although the trimmings may differ, the heart is the same. It is the power to look beyond the outside trimmings to see the fundamental principles that is needed in our search for world wide understanding. We need but understand these customs, and our task is done, because the man behind them has the same emotions as we.

The Chinese word for truth is "Toa." A bit of Chinese philosophy says--

"To Toa the zenith is not high, nor the nadir low; no point in time is long ago nor by lapse of ages has it grown old."

"I SAW THESE THINGS"

I saw the gentle robin
Hopping on the lawn
I saw the graceful leaping
Of a woodland fawn.

I heard the brook's clear babbling,
As it went its cheery way,
Bidding me to follow
To a place far, far away.

I saw the pussywillows
Swaying in the breeze,
And heard the gentle whispering
Of the forest trees.

I walked in many pathways,
Where other feet have trod,
I saw, in every living thing
The wondrous works of God.

"SEVEN KEYS TO SUCCESS FOR THE GRADUATE"

Ambition---is a key you'll need
    Without it you cannot succeed
Confidence---in all you do
    Is a key that you'll need too
Courage---to stick when things go wrong
    Is the key that will make you strong.
Determination---The key that will help you finish and win
    Any task that you begin.
Honesty---This is the key to satisfaction
    Let it guide your every action.
Common Sense---This is the key that will help you through
    And open many doors for you.
Character---This is the key to true Success
    For it opens the door to Happiness.

Robertino Tucker, Sophomore

"SPRING"

Spring is the time when everything is gay
And all of the birds, some farther away
The trees and flowers with their new colors bright,
Are all welcomed by us with great delight.
The rain and the bright sun shining
All bring the things, which help to awaken spring.

Josette Maynard, Grade Vlll.

"CRIME" DOES NOT PAY

Lana Turnworth, a very popular senior at the Lakehurst High School is pestered by a typical younger brother. This kid brother of hers owns a very profitable candid camera, profitable at her expense, and he is now engaged in a little discussion of business with Lana which seems to sound like this:

"Ah Lana dear, come over here and see the little picture---"

"You little----! Give me that picture, or I'll break your camera!"

"It's a wonder you didn't break it when I took this picture."

"Roger, you're mean, please give it to me!"

"Now wouldn't mother be angry if she knew you were keeping company with Flash..."

"Okay Roger, how much," was Lana's reply after much thought.

"One ninety-eight, I want to get a football."

Lana goes out and returns with a two dollar bill. "Don't keep the change."

"I'm charging two cents interest for the time it took you to get it", is the reply.

The Turnworth family buzzes around all afternoon and at the supper table Lana regards her brother with icy glares while he returns her looks with a none too pleasant smile. The parents, of course, sense something wrong between them, but say nothing rather than start a row. Roger's father always said that a peaceful evening meal made him sleep well; this was too peaceful.

Roger was out that evening and when his sister finally found his camera, which was strapped to the closet ceiling with adhesive tape, she prepared it for instant use.

Then, like a hound on the trail of a fox, Lana picked up Roger's scent. He was no longer alone and when they stopped by the bridge, in the park, Lana had a good reason to snap a picture. When she turned to run her luck deserted her, and Roger, recognizing her slight form in the moonlight, went after her.

Lynn Allen, whom he left so suddenly, was very angry so she ran after him. Lana got home first, locked herself in the dark room, and exposed the film. Roger came rushing into the living room a moment later and between gasps for breath found out, from his parents, that someone had just gone upstairs. He made a dive for the hall stairs, where Lynn confronted him as she rushed in the door and detained him by telling him what she thought of him and refusing his offer to escort her home after he had settled with Lana.

Lana got very convincing pictures, even in the moonlight, and made several copies for further use. Roger's first words were:

"How much?"

"Exactly one ninety-eight with two cents interest and a note promising that no further blackmail will be practiced against me."

Roger didn't get his football; he lost his girl friend, and oh my, did he feel terrible! Before he left the room his dear sister triumphantly remarked, "Sonny, crime does not pay."

THE CLOSE OF SCHOOL

My pupils, 'tis the close of school,
Vacation days have come,
And you're released from task and rule
And lessons' weary hum.

For many days and weeks we've met,
And coined our lessons o'er,
We've done our best to try to get
A part of Wisdom's store.

Progressive have our school days been,
And worthy each of you
I've done my best to lead you in
The paths you should pursue.

As time flits by, I'll think of you,
Observe you in life's race,
Each feature still will come in view,
Each well remembered face.

But now the time has come about
The closing words to say
The shadows fall and lengthen out
And mark declining day.

Until another term shall call
You here, Good-bye, till then
May God be with you each and all
Until we meet again.

THE GRADUATION SPEECH

It was graduation evening. Betty was excited because her brother, although he was not the valedictorian of his class, was going to speak an oration entitled, "How to Preserve Democracy."

She entered the hall, which was beautifully decorated in blue and silver. Amid the throng of people seeking their choice seats, Betty easily found hers, for it was in the front row. There she sat quietly until a rather elderly lady asked politely if she might sit beside her. This woman was the mother of one of her brother's best friends. Her son was not to be one of the speakers.

At last the moment arrived when the program was to begin. The orchestra played a number after which several orations were given. The orchestra again played. Meanwhile, Betty was impatiently waiting for her brother who was to be the next speaker. She repeated in her mind over and over again, "How to Preserve Democracy" and so forth, for she had almost learned it from her brother's saying it so many times to her. She felt confident he would give it correctly, yet she was nervous.

The orchestra had stopped playing. She looked up to see her brother slowly step forward. After repeating the title, he faltered through several lines. He suddenly stopped, and was unable to utter another word. At this moment poor Betty in the front seat burst into tears. He then stupidly returned to his seat.

As the program progressed, Betty had an inspiration. When the orchestra again played, she quietly walked up to the stage through the rows of teachers and pupils, and politely gained permission for her brother to have another chance. This time he delivered the speech clearly and without mistakes, a thing which resulted in a loud applause from the audience.

Betty's brother was forever grateful for his sister's loyal act of benevolence.

Our Voyage Through Life

As we embark on our journey through life
Toward our goal through trouble and strife
We must ever fight storms on our way
Battle discouragement day after day.
There will be smooth and some very rough sailing
But courage will keep us from failing.

What we've learned at dear Charlton High
Will prompt us to do or to die
We will not watch the rest sail away
Content to catch up on some other day.
We'll be right in the race with the rest
Win or lose, we will do our best.

We'll ride high o'er the breakers of time
To the dawn of success, so sublime
Hope and love will be our guides
As we sail through destiny's turbulent tides,
And when at last our journey is o'er
May we land on success's shore.

"CLASS HISTORY MARCHES ON"
SENIORS AT WORK AND AT PLAY

The Senior Class started this year with twenty members, but in the middle of the term we lost one member, Russell Partridge.

The officers are as follows: President, Beverly Davis; Vice President, Eva Prunier; Secretary Melvina Wilcox, Treasurer, Pauline Bedard.

We presented the play "The Professor Roars" at the play contest, and although this was not a winner, it was a good comedy and the cast, with Mr. Bruce as coach did a fine job.

The Seniors won the magazine contest for the second consecutive year. The class was divided into two teams. The "Onions" lost so they gave the "Garlics" a party at Mr. Bruce's house.

November 10, six of our seniors went to Worcester to appear on a question contest sponsored by Lorry Daley, editor of the Webster Times. The following seniors attended: Melvina Wilcox, Mary Butler, Clara Saunders, Antranig Kestigian, Dwight Harris, and Gardner Bishop.

The Seniors made a fairly good profit selling Christmas cards, and wrapping paper.

Every member of the class participated in "The Youngest," which we successfully presented as our Senior Play.

The Seniors were well represented in debating, basketball, baseball, soft ball, and the Dramatic Club Play.

After a great deal of consideration we chose Joseph Bushong as class photographer, from whom we received prompt and efficient service.

We sponsored a few motion pictures after the Junior Prom.

Respectfully submitted,
Melvina Wilcox, Secretary

JUNIOR GATHERINGS

The officers of the Junior Class of thirty-six members are: President, Margaret MacQuarrie; Vice President, William Duhamel; Secretary, Carolyn Baylies and Treasurer, Elizabeth Allen.

We won the play contest with our presentation of "He Ain't Done Right By Nell."

Many Juniors participated in debating, basketball, baseball, softball, Dramatic Club play, the orchestra, the Glee Club and the operetta.

Porter Whitney represented our class in the New England Music Festival at Provincetown.

Our only representative in the Prize Speaking Contest was Russell Bishop, who captured the first place in the Dramatic group.

Helen Wilson and Gordon Fountain represented us in the spelling bee.

We are proud of Charles MacQuarrie, who won first prize in the All Star Assembly.

We were very sorry that Jeannette Arsenault was unable to be with us for a time because of appendicitis.

The main topic of the Junior room has been the Prom, for which Bob Pooley furnished music. Much credit was due to our Faculty Advisers, Mrs. Hammond, and Miss Kinney for their work in making the Prom a success.

Our Junior year has been a happy and successful one. May our Senior year be even better.

Respectfully submitted,
Carolyn Baylies, Secretary

BING! BANG! BONG! SOPHOMORES!

The first excitement of the Sophomore class this year was the noisy cry, "Who is to be in the Play Contest?" Mrs. Fiske chose the following cast for the "Laundry Mark." Rhoda Donovan, Robertine Tucker; Mrs. Donovan, Barbara Grimwade; Madeline Donovan, Verna Gard; Winifrid Donovan, Ernest Bates; Roundy Robbins, Lowell Bond; Uncle Harvey, Kenneth Khuel; Mr. Donovan, John Pierangeli; Virgil Donovan, Paul Burns; Muzie, Grace Converse; Dr. Stephen Rickter, Stanley Cook; Mimi, Mary Clark; Margie, Barbara Leland; The Lady Saxophone Player, Inez Morang; Miss Atchison, Barbara Fitton; Mr. Bixley, Everett Harris; Mr. Harker, Robert Partridge; Jasper the dog, Queenie.

The cast presented this play at the Y.M.C.A. in Worcester, and in the Play Contest.

This year the coach of basketball chose, as one of the varsity players, Barbara Grimwade, a member of the class of '42. "Barb" certainly did a fine job representing the class.

We had two teams in class basketball. Our boys didn't do very well, but they certainly did try. The girls came in second, being defeated by the Juniors.

Next on our schedule was the Dramatic Club Play. The Sophomore members played seven out of sixteen parts. The students who participated were: Verna Gard, Inez Morang, Grace Converse, Paul Burns, Ernest Bates, Barbara Grimwade, and Robertine Tucker.

Then came the Glee Club Concert in which Grace Converse, Verna Gard, and Barbara Grimwade participated in the Operetta.

Two of our members won prizes in the Prize Speaking Contest held in Charlton. The two were Grace Converse, who placed in the humorous division, and Barbara Grimwade in the dramatic division. Grace represented us at the State Meet. Grace also took part in the debates at the State Meet, as one of the debaters was ill.

I am sure that when the spring ball teams are chosen our class will be well represented.

Respectfully submitted,
Robertine Tucker, Secretary

NEWS FROM THE FRESHMEN

The officers of our class this year were: President, Donald Bishop; Vice President, Mildred Robidoux; Secretary, Ruth Baylies; Treasurer, Mary Brigham.

We now have thirty-eight members in our class, as we lost only one member this year.

Donald Bishop was the only member of our class who represented us in the Speaking Contest.

The Freshmen were fortunate this year in winning the Junior

Play Contest with their presentation of "Molly." The following members took part: Marjory Lof, Joeanna MacQuarrie, Arlene Hammond, Ruth Baylies, Harry Clarke, Earl Whitney, Henry Duhamel and Donald Bishop.

Two of our members, Arlene Hammond and Marjory Lof, represented us in the Spelling Bee this year. We were especially proud of Arlene, who succeeded in winning first place in the Bee.

We are all very sorry to lose one of our members, Henry Duhamel, who has broken his leg again and will not be able to return this year.

The Freshmen were also represented this year in the Dramatic Club Play, All Star Assembly, basketball, baseball, softball, and Glee Club.

Respectfully submitted,
Ruth Baylies, Secretary

GRADE EIGHT REPORT

The officers of our class are as follows: President, Edith Cook; Vice President, Everett Keach; Secretary, Gertrude Arsenault; Treasurer, Cecile Burns.

The Dramatic Club officers are: President, Margaret Ray; Vice President, Josette Maynard; Treasurer, Marion Reynolds; Secretary, Anita Bombard.

In January our English Class formed a Book Club, officers of which are: President, Jean Harris; Vice President, Everett Keach; Secretary, Josette Maynard; Treasurer, Cynthia McKinstry; Librarian, Margaret Ray.

Respectfully submitted,
Gertrude Arsenault

REPORT OF ## THE STUDENT COUNCIL

We started in the fall of 1939 with the following officers: President, Francis Ashe; Vice-President, Beverly Davis; and Treasurer, Ruth Turskey. At our first meeting Gertrude Reynolds was elected Secretary.

The basketball games held during the winter months attracted a large audience as we had two very good teams. Parents were given free tickets to the Brookfield game. Interclass basketball was also held after the League schedule was completed.

With the proceeds of the magazine contest held the latter part of November, we purchased a Radio-Victrola. Dwight Harris was appointed to run the machine.

The Council sponsored two interesting and educational assemblies. The Spelling bee was a competitive one among the home rooms. The other was an All-Star Assembly with competition among the individual pupils. Arlene Hammond won the spelling bee and Charles MacQuarrie won the All-Star Assembly.

The Council sent delegates to three student council conventions during the year. Beverly Davis and Francis Ashe attended a meeting of the Central Division of Student Councils at Bartlett High School in Webster. Claire Robidoux and Francis Ashe attended a convention in Leominster; and Ruth Turskey and Francis Ashe attended a State Convention held at Fitchburg High School.

As members of the Council, we made it our responsibility to finish the Point System this year. We have worked hard to complete it and make it satisfactory to all.

Respectfully submitted,
Gertrude Reynolds, Sec.

GOOD WRITERS CLUB

The officers of our club this year were: President, Eva Prunièr; Vice President, Lucy Kestigian; Secretary, Ruth Baylies; and Advisor, Mrs. Hammond.

For the past few months several members have been trying for the certificate presented for the best progress in penmanship. Four of our members have won a certificate, Ruth Baylies, Marion Stone, Arlene Stevens and Helen Wilson.

During this year, we had sixteen members who had papers accepted by the American Penman Good Writers Club.

All of our members have been trying very hard this year to improve their writing, and many really have done a great deal toward becoming good writers.

Respectfully submitted,
Ruth Baylies, Secretary

DRAMATIC CLUB REPORT

During 1939-40 we have had twenty-seven members in our club. The officers are as follows: President, Laura Bond; Vice President Faith Taylor; and Secretary, Barbara Grimwade.

Our first production of the year was a one-act drama entitled "Chrisphor's Candle," which was presented at our Christmas Assembly and later at the Federated Church Christmas Party. The characters were as follows: Laura Bond, George Brown, Ralph Foskett, Earl Whitney, Mary Brigham, and Barbara Fitton.

After Christmas vacation, the club members started work on their annual play, which this year was "Young Lincoln," a play in six scenes. The cast was as follows: Lincoln, as a boy, George Brown; Nancy Hanks Lincoln, Barbara Grimwade; Sarah Lincoln, Margaret MacQuarrie; Auntie Sparrow, Inez Morang; Mrs. Rutledge, Verna Gard; Ann Rutledge, Faith Taylor; Mr. Rutledge, Russell Bishop; Lincoln, the man, Gardner Bishop; Martha, Beverly Davis; Mrs. Able, Robertine Tucker; Jack Armstrong, Ernest Bates; Mattie, a slave, Grace Converse; Malcolm Judd, Paul Burns; Sam Hill, Donald Bishop; Mary Owens, Arlene Hammond; John McNiel, Ralph Foskett.

This play was enthusiastically received by an exceptionally large audience in Charlton and Mr. Eugene Schofield, scoutmaster from Oxford, saw the play in Charlton, and liked it so well that he invited our Club to produce the play in Oxford for the benefit of his scout troup and the Charlton troup. Therefore, on April 27, the Charlton play cast and forty members of our orchestra and Glee Club journeyed to Oxford where they were again enthusiastically received by a very appreciative audience.

This was the first year that our club entered a play in Mass. Drama Contest. On April 6, 1940 pupils participating in Act III of the Lincoln Play and over forty of their classmates journeyed to Mass. Drama Day held in Everett, Mass. Charlton pupils gave an excellent performance and received many good compliments on their work. The first prize, however, went to Revere and the second to Leominister. The other schools participating were: Everett, Fall River, Somerville, Winthrop, Saugus, Foxboro, Charlton, and Arlington.

Our last play of the year is a one act comedy, "Pickles Is Pickles," which is to be given for assembly and later as entertainment for the Annual Strawberry Festival.

Respectfully submitted,
Barbara Grimwade, Secretary

DEBATING CLUB NEWS

The Charlton High School Debating Club began this year with the interscholastic debating of the Quoboag Valley Debating League. The teams were as follows: Affirmative, Russell Bishop, Mary Butler, Clara Saunders, and Mary Sullivan, alternate; Negative, Donald Bishop and Grace Converse, Bernice Johnson, Gardner Bishop, and Edward Silverberg, alternate.

We began the season determined to defend the championship, which we had won the previous year. The subject for debate was "Resolved, That the government should own and operate the railroads." When the season ended we found ourselves in second place with seven victories, three defeats; a percentage which was better than the percentage with which we had won the cup last year.

We continued, however, and won the District Championship at Holden in March. The same month we entered the State Meet at Concord and after a praiseworthy struggle against keen competition we won third place. Charlton team in these events was represented by: Affirmative, Mary Butler, and Clara Saunders; Negative, Bernice Johnson and Gardner Bishop.

Another highlight of our debating year came in January when some of our members attended the debate Clinic held at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham. Here we were privileged to hear Brooks Quimby, a noted debate authority from Bates College. Those representing the club at this event were: Mary Butler, Grace Converse, Donald Bishop, Clara Saunders, and our coach, Mr. Madaus.

As we close another year of debate history, we wish to express our sincere appreciation for the fine work which our coach, Mr. Madaus, has done in directing us through a successful season. We are looking forward to next year with high hopes.

Respectfully submitted,
Donald Bishop, Secretary

N.F.L. REPORT

March ninth witnessed the start of a successful season for National Forensic Members at the District Meet at Holden. Charlton won two first places. The debating team placed first and also Clara Saunders, in extemporaneous ranked first. The finals also included Grace Converse in humorous and Clara Saunders in oratorical declamation.

The State Meet at Concord also felt the presence of Charlton opposition. We received two state places; Clara Saunders second in ex temp and the debate team third. In face of keen competition, this is an enviable record for a school of our size.

Active members of N.F.L. this year included: Mary Butler, Grace Converse, Bernice Johnson, Clara Saunders, Barbara Grimwade, Gardner Bishop and Russell Bishop.

The degree of Distinction in N.F.L. was given to Clara Saunders and Gardner Bishop. A degree of Excellence was given to Mary Butler.

Respectfully submitted,
Clara Saunders

ATHLETIC CLUB

At the first meeting of our club this year,we had twenty-six members. We now have twenty-one members.

The officers of the club are as follows: President,William Meservey; Vice President, Charles MacQuarrie; Treasurer, Porter Whitney; Secretary, Francis Ashe.

The club has been very successful this year, and we have enjoyed our club meetings; at which we played ping-pong,boxed, answered important questions on sports, and took skill tests, which prove a person's reactions of the mind and muscles.

We sent members of the club to see football, basketball and baseball games at Worcester. We are also planning to take a trip to Boston to see the Boston Red Sox play.

We sponsored a moving picture about the various sports of the country, and I am sure that everyone enjoyed it and also benefited by it.

We are also planning to run a ping-pong tournament for the town championship. This will be held at the town hall. The entry fee will be twenty-five cents and the winner will receive a cup.

We will soon elect new officers for next year, which we hope will be a successful one.

Francis Ashe

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

Members of the Charlton High School Glee Club began preparing early in the year for their annual concert,which was very successfully given on April 26. The program consisted of songs by the entire Glee Club, instrumental selections by John Pierangeli and Mildred Robidoux and a one act operetta written by Clara Saunders.

The newly formed Boys' Glee Club has been highly successful this year. They sang these selections at the annual concert: "Where the River Goes Down To Sea" and "The Open Road". On Washington's birthday Bernice Johnson, Barbara Grimwade, Kathleen Harris, Clara Saunders, Beverly Davis, Gardner Bishop, David Harris, Russell Bishop, and Porter Whitney went to Worcester to sing over WORC and Clara Saunders spoke about being chosen as a representative at D.A.R. Convention.

The orchestra included: David Harris, Pianist; Marie Buteau, Carolyn Baylies, Clara Saunders, and William Duhamel, Violins; Mildred Robidoux, Agnes Buteau and Albert Bucharell, Cornets; Charles MacQuarrie and Buell Philips, Guitars; Joseph Pierangeli, Mandolin and Robert Bostrom, Saxophone.

In cooperation with other musical organizations of the school the orchestra has furnished music at these events: assemblies, class play contest, Prize Speaking, Glee Club Concert, and Graduation.

As usual all of our musical organizations have played an important part in the life of the school. When our dramatic club play "Young Lincoln" thrilled first Charlton and then Oxford audiences, the success could in part be attributed to the splendid work of these musical organizations that furnished instrumental and vocal selections suggestive of the background of the play. Under the able direction of Miss Florence Putnam we have presented a very fine type of music to the students and to the public.

On April 17-20 Provincetown on the Cape was crowded with young musicians from all the New England States. Among this group were four students from Charlton High School--Beverly Davis, Clara Saunders, Gardner Bishop, and Porter Whitney, accompanied by Miss Putnam. The experience that was theirs was an unforgettable one.

It is a thrill unsurpassed to work under the baton of such a man as Mr. Butterfield. His technique has the quality of drawing out the very best in you, almost without your realizing what is happening. To work up to his standard is to achieve something very worthwhile. The music he was able to make us produce was so beautiful you often found yourself stopping in the middle of a song to listen.

Although our time was spent largely in rehearsals we did see and do other things of interest in spite of the almost constant rain. On the one clear day we explored the Coast Guard Station at Race Point and watched the submarine Tabor cruising off the coast.

It was a rare privilege to be one of the hundred twenty-five schools represented and we are all unanimous in our appreciation to Miss Putnam for making such a trip possible.

Clara Saunders

SEVENTH GRADE REPORT

Those who have been on the Honor Roll for the year are: Dorothy Tite, Mary Ashworth, Ruth Brown, and Shirley Greenhalge.

The seventh grade did quite well in the magazine contest. One of our pupils won a prize for selling $5.50 worth of subscriptions.

Our class was also represented in the Dramatic Club Play as one of our pupils took the part of Lincoln as a boy, in "Young Lincoln."

We are proud of the fact that George Brown was in both the Christmas play and Dramatic Club Play.

Those who were on the Honor Roll last ranking period were: Ruth Brown, Mary Ashworth, Anne Grimwade, Mildred Mahan, Dorothy Tite, Theresa Courcy, Shirley Greenhalge, and George Brown.

Respectfully submitted,
Ruth Brown, Secretary

CAMERA CLUB REPORT

We started the third consecutive year of our Camera club with fourteen members and Mr. Mushroe as our adviser. We elected officers as follows: President, Arthur Robidoux; Vice president, Ruth Turskey; Secretary, Elizabeth Allen; Treasurer, Melvina Wilcox. After a short time the Vice president left the club so we elected Pauline Piehl to take her place.

We became acquainted with developing and printing by reading and after that we took pictures with a loaded pinhole camera. Later we developed roll films.

Respectfully submitted,
Elizabeth Allen, Sec.

SPORTS

"To Those Who Serve"

To those who serve old Charlton High
Our tribute new we give;
The name you've made shall never die.
As long as Charlton High shall live.

Under the beloved colors
The school's own blue and white,
The teams have gone out bravely
To enter and win the fight.

They have won and lost
But to them it is the same,
For in good times or bad
They can play the game!

Softball

Softball started this year with twenty girls reporting. This is the beginning of the second year for this sport here in Charlton High. We hope that it will be as popular as the baseball squad. As yet, we have neither manager nor coach, but we have been practicing for three weeks.

Hopes are high for some sort of uniform outfit for the Softball team and some much needed equipment. Last year the girls won a good per cent of the games played and they hope to do better this year.

We've lost only four standard players--Agnes Kostigian, catcher; Tefta Peters, alternate pitcher and S.S.; and Gertrude Johnson, second base.

Letters were not awarded last year because we did not play enough games to consider it worth while, but we hope to have a larger schedule this year so this will be possible.

Baseball

Out of 27 boys reporting for practice a fine squad has been formed. I regret to say that the school body will not be able to witness their team's prowess as we lack a suitable home field. Those who possess a Student Council ticket will be able to see at least one game on a rival's diamond. Our first game with Oxford resulted in a 12 to 2 defeat for Charlton.

Gordon Nightingale Jr.
Baseball Manager

Track Report for 1939-40

The track team was very successful this year with the Charlton High School scoring many places during the meet of the year.

Gordon Nightingale, our favorite track star, entered every 880 yd. run that came his way last year and never failed to score anything but first place in any of them. He also broke a record at Amherst in the class B division. (Hats off to Gordon)

Then, we must not forget Gardner Bishop, William Meservey, Russell Bishop, and Stanley Cook who won many points for the school last year.

Other members of the team were as follows: Alexander Peters, Charles MacQuarrie, Francis Ashe, Porter Whitney, Earl Bassett, Armand Robidoux, Earl Whitney, Fred Murkland, Earl Bond, Antranig Kestigian, and Edward Silverberg.

Despite our losing one or two of our track members, we expect to be a very successful team this year, breaking new records and winning honors for our school.

Join the track team and help your school!

Francis Ashe,
Manager

Girls' Track Report

Last fall the girls' track team came out with about fifteen girls. Most of the credit must go to the seventh and eight grades, for they made up the greater part of the team.

The girls attended the track meet at Spencer, but they failed to make very much showing. Lena Trifone was the only girl to place from Charlton. But the situation looks much better for next year, because we certainly have some good athletes coming from the seventh and eighth grades.

I'm sure the girls can make next year a much more successful season.

Mary Butler,
Track Manager

Girls' Basketball Report

At the beginning of the basketball season, we started with approximately twenty-one players ranging from the seventh to the twelfth grade. The three pupils in the seventh grade that started at the beginning of the season to practice all dropped out together with a few of the eighth grade pupils. Two eighth graders, Joan Harris and Anita Bombard proved to be such good players that they succeeded in playing on the first team.

Although the girls didn't win many games, they played well. Some of the girls realize they may not obtain letters.

The Junior girls proved to be outstanding in class basketball, which took place at the close of the season. They defeated all other classes that competed. As you know the juniors have some outstanding players who have proved to be quite successful this year.

Unfortunately, with the coming of graduation, we shall lose two senior girls, Pauline Piehl and Gertrude Reynolds, who have helped us to win a few games, but we also have new players coming that we hope may be able to fill the vacancies that the seniors are leaving.

Respectfully submitted,
Claire Robidoux, Manager

Basketball Highlights of the Year-

The first game of the season was played with Nichols J.V. and as a result we found the score as follow: Charlton 24, Nichols 22.

Our League games are now starting and off we go to North Brookfield. The score is North Brookfield 44, Charlton 17.

(Meservey led the C. H. S. attack with 8 points.)

Rutland comes to town. The score is as follows:

Charlton 38 Rutland 31. (Whitney was the star with 16 points.)

Holden comes to town. The result is Charlton 54, Holden 31.

(Meservey led the attack with 17 points while Whitney and Ashe had 12 and 10 points respectively.)

Leicester pays its first visit in five years. The result is Charlton 41, Leicester 14. (Again Meservey, Ashe and Whitney tossed in 11, 10 and 10 points respectively.)

Oxford floats in. The result is as follows: Charlton 43, Oxford 25. (Ashe scored 16 points while Meservey tossed in 15 points.)

We go to Auburn. The result is Charlton 26, Auburn 23 (Ashe led the C. H. S. attack with 13 points.

Off we go to Spencer. The result is as follows: Spencer 24, Charlton 16. (Gardner Bishop led the C. H. S. attack with 5 points.)

Brookfield comes to town. The result is Charlton 24, Brookfield 22. (Ashe tossed in 9 points while Robidoux tossed in 8 for C.H.S.)

Look! Who comes to town. The result North Brookfield 32, Charlton 30. (Meservey again tossed in 13 points and Ashe 10 for C. H. S.)

We go to Rutland! The result is Rutland 43 Charlton 33 (Meservey led Charlton's attack with 17 points; while Whitney tossed in 8 points.

We start for Holden, get lost, but finally arrive there. The result is Charlton 54, Holden 24. Whitney tossed 15 and Meservey 11.

Off we go to Leicester: The result is Charlton 29 and Leicester I2. (Meservey once again kept Charlton on the winning side by tossing in I5 points.)

Off we head toward Oxford: Result is Charlton 30 Oxford 26 (Meservey led the team with I7 points while Whitney got IO.)

Auburn comes to town: The result is Charlton 42 Auburn 22 (Whitney led the C.H.S. with I6 points; while Meservey still kept sinking them with I4 points.)

Spencer comes to town: The result is Spencer 4I Charlton 32.Meservey was the star with 20 points.

M.E. Wells faces us: The result is Southbridge 44 Charlton 35. Again Meservey was star with II points.

Charlton goes over to Wells: The result is Southbridge 33 and Charlton 26. (Meservey ended his career as high scorer again with 9 points.)

We must also take off our hats to the guards, who played excellent basketball but do not have a chance to score many points.

Francis Ashe and George Anderson

CLASS BASKETBALL

The Seniors won the class basketball cup by winning all of the games they played. The Seniors beat the Juniors in the final thrilling game with a score of 25 to 24.

MISCELLANEOUS

MISCELLANEOUS

" You may think me unimportant
'Cause I'm printed in the back
But if you think I'm worthless
You're just plumb off your track.

Here's where you merely average folks
Who wish to escape those learned pages
Can read some quips, and then some jokes
Not try to diagnose the ages.

All that is good and very fine
But hardly very cheerful
Just read a page or two of mine
You sure will get an earful.

And if perchance you should see
A quip about yourself within,
It's all in fun, don't angry be
Just take it with a grin.

C. M. S.

"OVER HEARD"

La Scene--the space between two eternities.

Dramatis Personnae--Lost Time and a Senior

Senior:

Oh There you are, old fellow! I have been wondering where you could have gone. I haven't even missed you until these last few months.

Lost Time:

No, Few people ever do miss me until it is too late.

Senior:

Too late! Yes, that's just it. Now I can't do half the things I've wanted to do. The time is too short. I can't join that club, or write that article for the school paper. It's too late to do that extra reading to improve my marks--and all because of you! When did I lose you! I never can think where you went.

Lost Time:

Don't you remember all of those study periods you were wasting instead of studying. Remember the nights you were playing ball instead of doing your home work? And how about the time you read that cheap novel instead of reading your book report?

Senior:

But I didn't realize that took so much time. I thought that I'd have plenty of time to make it up before graduation.

Lost time:
Few students realize that minutes wasted count into hours, and hours into weeks and days of wasted effort.

Senior:
Can't I get you back some how? The time is so short, and I have not done half the things I wanted to while in high school.

Lost time:
No, I am lost forever. You have had your chance and lost it. I can never be regained. The future cannot borrow from the past.

Senior:
If only I had realized all that.

Lost time:
I grow larger with the years. You are but one of many who have added to my store of futile regrets. If only students would realize that time once lost is lost forever.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF

Evelyn Greenhalge didn't stare into the typing room first period.
Vina Wilcox couldn't balance the ticket accounts.
John Terrill looked through his glasses.
Gardner Bishop left the Freshmen girls alone.
Arthur Robidoux had only one girl-friend?
A. Kestigian fell in love.
Clara Saunders danced the polka.
Irene Arsenault wasn't so shy.
Pauline Piehl became a flirt.
Rolande Buteau talked as much as some of her class-mates.
William Meservey appeared with somebody but the one and only.
Pauline Bedard lost her popularity?
Dwight Harris didn't argue about every statement that was said?
Eva Prunier grew about six inches?
George Anderson woke up?
Russell Ferguson found a girl of his own?
Mary Butler was without a true love?

"THE LIGHTER VEIN"

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day
A line of cars winds swiftly down the street
The pedestrian plods his absent-minded way
And leaves the world quite unexpectedly.

Father: When Abe Lincoln was your age he was making his own living.
Son: Yes, and when he was your age he was president.

Mrs. Hollis: Now students describe a gumdrop.
7th Grade in Unison: A Marshmallow in technicolor.

Mr. Mushroe: Arthur, do you like algebra?
Arthur: I'll say so. I'm stuck on every problem.

Gardner: What's the idea of wearing my rain coat?
Russell: Well, you wouldn't want your best suit to get wet, would you?

What do you think of the new mechanical cotton picker?
I wouldn't stand too close to it in that suit.

College student to Roommate who has gone out for the evening: If I'm studying when you get back, wake me up.

What a chance for a pick pocket when Hitler has his loyal subjects lined up in salute to him.

Mrs. Absent-Minded Professor: The doctor is here.
Mr. Absent-Minded Professor: Tell him I can't see anyone today I'm too ill.

Miss Manzi: William, tell the class what the Hague Tribunal is.
William Berry: The Hague Tribunal ah------ar-----
Miss Manzi: The Hague Tribunal _is_
William Berry: The Hague Tribunal isbritrates international controversies.

Mr. Bruce: (after receiving Vina's test paper) What do you mean by this H-I-J-K-L-M-N-O-.
Vina: Well, you said the formula for Water was H to O.

When you hear of marks being below water level, it means they are below "c" level.

Mother, are you the nearest relative I've got?
Yes, and your father's the closest.

There are a lot of foolish men in the world. The other day one of them married a woman who can throw a dicus 143 feet.

When it comes to politics always remember: The dog that squeals the loudest is the one fartherest from the trough.

A woman must have plenty of pluck to keep her eye brows in shape.

Well, Doc you sure kept your promise when you said you'd have me walking again in a month.
Well, well, that's fine.
Yes, I had to sell my car when I got your bill.

Doctor to beautiful patient: Your left eye is slightly astigmatic with a trace of myopia enterposis, and your right eye is like some deep, dark, lovely pool, too.

Mr. Bruce: Now you all know what an atom is.
Porter: Most of us do, but you should explain it for the benefit of those who've never seen one.

E: My boy friend is a riddle to me.
M. I know I gave him up once myself.
